Rick Bell

Consultant to Civil Litigation Teams with the latest innovations in technology and multimedia
Atlanta Metropolitan Area

Summary

Rick Bell is the Principal, Lead Consultant and Managing Director of Supreme Litigation Technologies, LLC ('SLT') - (<http://supreme-litigation.com>).

'SLT' is a technical consulting firm that provides comprehensive multimedia support to civil litigation teams during trial, arbitration, mediation and research ("mock trial") exercises. We provide in-person and remote (Zoom) consultative support, including building and coding trial databases, creating custom PowerPoint presentations / graphics / animations as well as video deposition editing and playback services. We help to prepare client experts and witnesses by effectively utilizing comprehensive technology strategies that enhance their testimony for juries. We manage all computer/AV (Audio-Visual) software and equipment for litigators, as seasoned "hot-seat" technology professionals, prior to and in the midst of highly pressured legal engagements.

Rick leads SLT's Litigation Technology practice and is responsible for overall client/case project management. He is directly engaged and embedded with trial teams during all phases of litigation. He has supported his clients on very complex, lengthy and high-profile matters in ALL areas of the law. He's consulted in venues across the U.S.A. for AMLaw 100 Firms and other firms in proceedings of all sizes, since 2005 (18 years). SLT's experience, technical prowess and project management expertise enable us to support our clients in their pursuit of reaching favorable outcomes.

Visit our website, (supreme-litigation.com) to contact us and also read the recommendations/testimonials we've received on LinkedIn, to learn more about how we delivered tangible results for our clients.

Prior to SLT, Rick excelled at TrialGraphix as a Senior Trial Consultant, working with hundreds of legal professionals for more than 8 years. He's been a multimedia and technology developer since 1997, whose background includes broad corporate experience in banking, pharmaceuticals and internet/new media.

Rick earned his B.S. in management from The Georgia Institute of Technology (Georgia Tech), with a concentration in economics and technology, as well as an M.S. in information systems engineering, with distinction, from the New York University (NYU) - Polytechnic (Tandon) School of Engineering. He also earned professional certifications in Multimedia Technology & Internet Technologies from NYU.

Contact us at 1-855-LIT-TECH (855-548-8324) or info@supreme-litigation.com regarding your next matter. We will help you WIN your next case.

We are always HERE for you and your team.
